We prepare your company for the future with staffITpro Business Reporting. Identify possible staffing shortages through target-oriented analysis of your company's requirements for IT skills and important candidate data. Estimate the needs of your customer and always be a step ahead of the competition.

Good decisions are the cornerstone of successful business. StaffITpro business reporting offers you the possibility to quickly get a thorough overview over the structure of your company. Discover immediately which skills are missing, how much revenue you will make in the next three month, how many projects have been staffed successfully or lost, and many more key performance indicators.

For better understanding, we divide reports into the following groups: Skill Reports, Forecast Reports, Performance Reports and Revenue Reports. Additional analysis reports concentrate all important business indicators of your company into one overview. All reports can be customized with individual filter and sort criteria so that you are flexible in response to business needs. StaffITpro Business Reporting is an investment. The system is based on the reporting software of market leader CrystalReports. You can print the reports or distribute the results by email. We build individual reports upon request, easy to add to your standard suite. This offer is a must-have add-on solution for all customers who require more detailed management reporting from staffITpro.
